

ROSEDALE PARK HISTORIC DISTRICT

ROSEDALE PARK

The Rosedale Park district is the largest historic district ever nominated to the National Register of Historic Places in Michigan in terms of numbers of properties – over 1500. Located in northwest Detroit, south of Grand River and west of Southfield, it is a residential neighborhood of mostly brick houses largely developed in the later 1920s to 1940s. Rosedale Park will be listed in the national register in spring 2006. A Certified Local Government grant awarded by the State Historic Preservation Office to the city of Detroit paid for much of the cost of the project.
